

Katie Hoefling graduated from Southern Nazarene University with a Bachelor's of Science in Family Studies & Gerontology in 2007. She worked at Areawide Aging Agency, a non-profit which served low-income seniors, for five years before coming to OUHSC. She has worked at the Harold Hamm Diabetes Center since May of 2014. She now coordinates the Membership Policy, Metabolic Research Conference, Harold Hamm International Prize for Biomedical Research in Diabetes, the Research Symposium and the Harold Hamm Diabetes Care Summit.