

Myrna Rae Page is the director of the Office of Continuing Professional Development (CPD) at the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine. The Office of CPD is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) with Accreditation with Commendation. Prior to her current position she was the associate director of the CPD office for ten years. She has been a site surveyor for the Oklahoma State Medical Association (OSMA), and has been a member of the OSMA Accreditation Review Committee, both since 2011.

Prior to joining the CPD staff, she was the program coordinator of the Diabetes Control and Prevention Program in the Chronic Disease Service at the Oklahoma State Department of Health for a total of ten years.

Ms. Page obtained a master's of public health degree from the University of Oklahoma College of Public Health. Professionally, she has earned the national designation of Certified Health Education Specialist (CHES) in 1993.