BIO

I was born and raised in Pakistan. I emigrated to Wisconsin-US in 2000. I completed undergraduate from University of Wisconsin. I went to Ross university school for Medical school. I completed my residency from Connecticut and stayed there as an assistant clinical professor and primary care physician for 4 years. My interest in Rheumatology began in residency during Rheumatology rotations which confirmed this was the right fit for me. I am very happy to be trained at OU and hoping to pursue a career in private practice. Outside of work, I enjoy traveling and spending time with family and friends.
