

Pamela S. Allen, M.D.

Biosketch

Updated 1/30/2020

Dr. Pamela Allen is an associate professor at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center Department of Dermatology. She serves as the medical director and director of the residency program and cosmetics. She was also named the Harold L. Boyer/Mark Allen Everett Chair in Dermatology in 2015.

Dr. Allen received her medical degree from Loma Linda University School of Medicine in Southern California. She completed an internal medicine residency at the Martin Luther King/Charles R. Drew Medical Center in Los Angeles. After which, she completed her dermatology residency training at OU. She has been an OU dermatology faculty member since 2002.

Dr. Allen is a fellow of the American Academy of Dermatology and serves on many administrative boards for OU Physicians and the OU College of Medicine.

Dr. Allen has published many dermatologic articles and has served as principal investigator on multiple clinical studies. She has been interviewed by T.V. and radio stations as well as newspapers giving expert skin advice. She enjoys giving presentations to church, school, community and medical organizations on local and national levels.