

Chad Douglas, MD, PharmD is an Assistant Professor at OU Health Sciences Center within the Department of Family and Preventative Medicine. He is the Medical Director for OU Physicians Health and Wellness Clinic which provides care for OUHSC students and employees. Dr. Douglas is also the Medical Director as well as the Director for Didactic Education for the OUHSC Physician Associate Program. He has been active in physician and patient advocacy in regard to public health policy and legislation for many years. He serves as Co-Chair of the OAFP legislative committee as well as through his service as the Family Medicine Physician representative on the Oklahoma State Medical Association's Legislative Council and the Oklahoma Patient's Coalition.

Dr. Douglas earned his Doctorate of Pharmacy degree from the OU College of Pharmacy and then earned his Doctorate of Medicine degree from OU College of Medicine. He completed an internship at OUHSC in Internal Medicine followed by a residency in Family Medicine at OUHSC as well.